

A photograph of three young children in a classroom, smiling and raising their arms. The text "We all want to share our knowledge" is overlaid in orange. The children are wearing white shirts and are sitting at desks. The background is slightly blurred, showing other students and classroom furniture.

We all want to share our knowledge

A knowledge sharing story from Kampala

A brown paper bag filled with peanuts, tied with a string, against a light background. The bag is overflowing with peanuts, and the string is tied around the neck. The background is a soft, light blue gradient.
